When Heaven Calls

Nicole Mullen

```
E            E            A
  Much faster than, the blink of an eye
                A    B         E
Lightning will flash, and He'll split the sky
            E        A
Nobody knows, the day or the time
                  B             E
The trumpets will sound, and we will arise

```

```
E          A
For every Man, there is a time

To love and to laugh, to live and to die
                E        A
So I'm living for, the one who is love
                  B                  E
And I'm dying to hear, hear Him say well-done
